Comedian/Writer/Improv/Actor

Corey Alexander's ascent through the comedy world is a testament to his hard work and dedication over many years. Raised in Philadelphia, Corey has taken his act countrywide to a multitude of clubs including Carolines, Comix, Gotham, Jimbo's Comedy Works (Montreal), Funny Bone, Catch a Rising Star, Comedy Zone, Comedy Works (US), and many more.

Corey was asked to perform as part of Comix's "Best of New Talent", was the winner of Comedy Cabaret's NJ Laugh-off, and recently performed at the famed Palace Theater for 1000 people. He is recognized by his complaints of not being married (you read that correctly) and his ability to interact with the audience.

He's been featured on MiND TV (Stand-up special), Fox Good Morning, and CBS Sports Zone. Also, Corey has been a guest on morning shows WMMR, WBUS, WIP, WZZO, and Cool 100.

Corey has also won four other stand-up contests throughout three different states. He has been featured in numerous publications, podcasts, and local TV broadcasts.

Corey has performed at colleges, social clubs, country clubs, and large corporate shows. Corey is currently writing several film and TV pilots (3 Heads Productions; Wallach Media; 3 Point Production Group), and just starred in second movie "Bad Dad", a movie which premieres in 2014. Keep an eye out for him!
